CONVICTION OF THE GLYMONT MURDER-ERS.—The trial of the two colored men, Jas. Henry Butler, alias Charles H. Simpson, and Charles Wilson, alias Martin Henry, for the murder of John W. The endeavors of his government would be continued towards the maintenance of peace. The alliance of the three empires, so far from being broken, remains close and firm. A Minister Elopes with a Young Lady. THEIR VISIT TO THE CENTENNIAL, AND

WHAT CAME OF IT. Correspondence of the Baltimore American, rom Grafton, W. Va., Dec. 4, says:-A few weeks ago this borough was thrown into con siderable excitement by a rumor which rapidly spread abroad, that the Rev. J. A. Kibbe, pastor of the M. E. Church, in this place, had gone to the Centennial Exhibition with Miss Mary Wise, a young lady, sixteen years of age, and a member of his congregation. The reverend gentleman has been here for about three years, and has a wife and three children. About twelve months ago it was noticed that he was on very familiar terms with Miss Wise, paying her marked attention at various festivals held in the church, and often walking with her through the streets. This conduct at last roused the indignation of several of his parishioners, and they complained of it to the trustees of the church, by whom he was reprimanded, and admonished to act in a more clerical manner. This advice, however, was unheeded by him, and the trustees, although feeling that the discipline of the church ought to be exercised in his case, were averse to bringing the matter before the public, preferring rather to let him depart in peace when the term of his pastorate expired. On the evening of the 7th of November the lady in question and her brother purposed leaving here for Philadelphila. The pastor was seen in the sitting received. phia. The pastor was seen in the sittingroom of the Grafton Hotel in company with Miss Wise, and it was supposed he was bidding her goodbye. But when she and her brother left by the cars he accompanied them, and sent a note to his wife, stating that he had been unexpectedly called to Washington, D. C. it now appears that before the party left Graf-Wise arranged with her ministerial admirer that when she arrived in Philadelphia she would steal away from her brother and accompany him wherever he wished But after getting there she refused to fulfil her promise. Kibbe was so determined in the matter that he acquainted her brother with her faithlessness, and asked him to intercede with her on his behalf, a modest request which the young man refused. He then appeared to be seized with a fit of remorse, and sitting down on "the ragged edge," wrote a letter to the trustees of the church, in which he stated that he was a ruined man, and would not again return to the scene of his pastoral labors and amatory practices. The Presiding Elder of the district was notified, and a council, consisting of himself and five ministers, was held last week at which the foregoing facts were adduced. and the reverend gentleman was found guilty of the charges preferred against him. Much sympathy is expressed for his wife and

ICE.—The cold weather of last night produced considerable ice on the river, the flats on the opposite side being covered with a thick coating. The ferry steamer Virginia made two attempts to cross, this morning, but failed each time. The canal is pretty well covered with ice. The boating season may be considered as nearly at an end. There are some few boats out, but they are loaded with the coal that was already mined, and which, if the boats are frozen up, might as well spend the winter on the canal as anywhere else. The ice breaker, belonging to the C. & O. Canai Co., is kept busily at work on the upper end of the canai, so as to let out as many boats as possible
